

Color the amphibians

Amphibians

go through metamorphosis

have moist wet skin

hatch from eggs

Are vertebrates and have a backbone

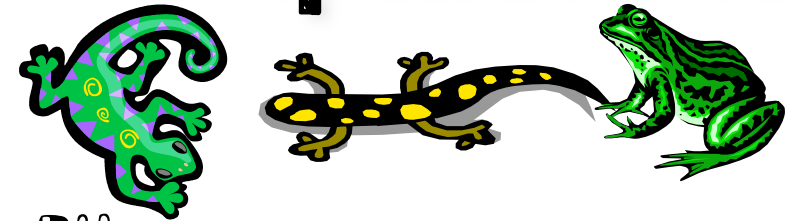

They breathe through their skin

newts

cold blooded

salamanders

Amazing amphibians

BY _____

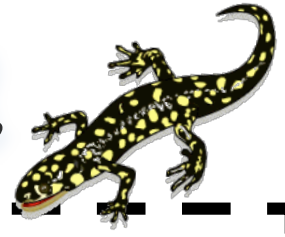

Using the information on page 2 fill in the blanks above.

1. Amphibians are _____ blooded.
2. They have _____ skin.
3. They _____ through their skin.
4. Their babies hatch from _____.
5. They go through a change called _____.

Amphibian Facts

SALAMANDER

By Meish Goldish

There's a salamander in that rotted old log.
 It looks like a lizard, but it's more like a frog.
 It likes to eat insects, it likes to eat bugs,
 It likes to eat worms, and it likes to eat slugs.
 The salamander's skin is slimy and black,
 And when it loses its tail, another one grows back!

Read the poem with a friend.

Circle the words that rhyme in the poem