Using the information on page 2, write a fact in each web circle about the laughing hyena.

The spotted hyena is the largest of the hyena types. It is sometimes called a "laughing hyena" because its howl might sound like laughter. Spotted hyenas live in Africa and can range in habitats from grasslands, savannas, woodlands, deserts, forests and mountains. They are famed scavengers and often dine on the leftovers of other predators. But they will also take down wildebeest or antelope on their own. By Meish Goldish

Laughing Hyena

Hi, hyena!
What do you say?
You seem to be laughing a lot today!
Hi, hyena,
Out on the prowl.
I hear your laugh is really a howl!

Circle the rhyming words:

stay big may howl laugh
today

Name _____________

Graphics: DJ Inkers

Read the poem above with a friend.
Circle the rhyming words.