All About Owls

By ____________________
Owls are raptors. Raptors are birds that hunt and kill prey. They have powerful talons or claws which help them catch and kill their prey. Many owls have special flight feathers for silent flight. They have very sensitive ears and can hear the smallest sound. They can see well but can’t move their eyes, so they must turn their heads to see.

Owls are hunters of the night. That means they are nocturnal. They are predators and eat insects, small mammals and other birds.
