Using the information on page 2 fill in the blanks above.

1. Reptiles are __________________.
2. They have ____________________ skin.
3. They ___________________ with lungs.
4. Their babies come from ____________________.
5. They are vertebrates and have ____________________

Using the information above circle the words in the poem that rhyme and then write them on the lines above.

Rhyme Time
snakes and ____________________

_________________ and in _________________ and blizzards ago and ____________________

Circle the words in the poem that rhyme and then write them on the lines above.

By Meish Goldish
Reptiles are crocodiles, Turtles and snakes.
To be called a reptile Here’s what it takes:
Be a cold-blooded creature,
Have dry, scaly skin;
Breathe with your lungs, Breathe out and breathe in.

Reptiles are alligators,
Tortoises, and lizards,
Hiding in the desert
From hot, sandy blizzards.
Some say that dinosaurs Were reptiles long ago.
What is a reptile? Well, now you know!