The turtle's always been inclined to live within his shell. But why he cares to be confined, the turtle does not tell.

So if you wish to visit him in his domestic dome, just knock politely on his shell, you'll find the turtle home.

Add a letter at the beginning to make new words.

____ ell      ____ ell

____ ell      ____ ell

4. Read the poem with a friend. Circle the rhyming words.