Wemberly Worried

Wemberly is a little mouse that worried about everything. She worried morning, day, and night. She worried that the tree in their yard might fall on the house. She worried at her birthday party that there wouldn’t be enough cake. She worried on Halloween that there would be too many butterflies. She worried that snakes would come out of the radiators. When she worried she rubbed Petal’s, her toy rabbit’s ears.

But most of all Wemberly worried about starting Nursery School. She wondered will anyone wear spots or stripes or carry a doll? Her teacher Mrs. Peachum introduces her to Jewel who was wearing stripes and had a doll. They became friends and played together. She was still worried about things but maybe not as much as before. Wemberly decided that she would come back to school the next day.
